Project #: PZ-18-00101, Staff Representative, Steve Horton, City Planner)

Staff Report

Mr. Horton presented the Staff Report dated July 3, 2018, to the Commission.

Staff Recommendation

Mr. Horton recommended: Because the request does comply with the master plan land use map and it does comply with other City requirements in the zoning ordinance, he does recommend approval.

Commissioner Questions for Staff

Commissioner Jackman asked if there are any other single lot zones; Mr. Horton said not that he is aware of, in most cases it's preferable to have larger areas, more than just a single lot for a single zone district. It's not prohibited by our ordinances, but it's something that is recommended.

Commissioner Jackman then asked what made Mr. Horton go against that recommendation; Mr. Horton said he actually recommends approval because it complies with the Master plan.

Commissioner Sheehan asked how they can reference the master plan verses the zoning ordinances they have, or if the zoning books they have are outdated. What section in the master plan says we can change the zone on a single/spot zoning. Mr. Horton excused himself to retrieve his master plan.

Vice Chairman Shaw asked the applicant to come forward state his name and sign in, while we waited for Mr. Horton.

Mr. Horton referred to the master plan the City approved in 2012, and showed the map section that was labeled mixed use, and under the land use designations mixed use says a mix of office, retail, and residential development with uses often mixed vertically in the same building, commercial developments are typically of a small scale and are oriented towards pedestrians. Compatible zoning districts are B-3 and B-R, so this area is recommended as we move into the future to be either B-3 or B-R.

Commissioner Sheehan asked which document would supersede; Mr. Horton said they both work together, the zoning that is in place was done back in 1982 and a master plan that was done back then too. He can't remember what that master plan had this area designated, but the 2012 master plan supersedes the one that was done in 1982.

Commissioner Sheehan stated that they are supposed to go by the zoning ordinance, unless there is a place in the master plan that says how we can do it in both documents. The zoning ordinance says that the B-R zone must be at least 5 acres; Mr. Horton said yes but in the downtown/B-3 area it is mixed use.

Commissioner Sheehan then asked if they should drop the B-R and B-3 and label them all the same; Mr. Horton said that would probably be the best thing to do in this area. Mr. Horton said you can't get 10 acres of B-R in this area, in situations you have to work together. In areas like this for B-R you can't get large areas for a zone district.

Commissioner Jackman stated that according to the ordinance there are minimum zoning district sizes.

Mr. Horton said the overriding issues here, if you are making a zoning change state statute require that it has to comply with the master plan. You cannot make a zone change without it showing here, otherwise you'd have to amend the master plan first before going through a zone change.

Commissioner Jackman stated he thinks where everyone is struggling is Mr. Horton stated there is no minimum in the staff packet, however the ordinance says there is a minimum of 5 acres; Mr. Horton said in the downtown area like this, he thinks that was an oversight, you cannot get 5 acres.

Commissioner West said the odd thing is the ordinance was revised in 2014 and the master plan is dated 2012, which reiterates Commissioner Sheehan's question on which one supersedes which.

Commissioner Jackman said there are 20 houses along that street, he is fine if there is a house there, it would be better than what is there now, however according to the ordinances we can't actually. Can we do a conditional use permit or anything to get him to improve the area, but still following City ordinances; Mr. Horton said in a situation like this it would probably take a language amendment into the table of permitted uses in order to address this. In a situation like this Mr. Horton doesn't think you will see more than one or two properties at a time that would want to change to B-R, to do a tear down and rebuild residential.

Commissioner Sheehan isn't saying anything against residential, and in their day they were really cute and nice looking homes, however to him it's a tough location and a hard place to raise a family. He can see a little insurance company office, a little boutique shop, whatever the applicant wants to do, but it's not falling in line with the ordinance. Mr. Horton said he doesn't know what would be the best approach for this it wouldn't be a conditional use or a variance, the only way this could go through for Mr. Seneshale to demolish a residence and rebuild a residence, he can talk with the City Attorney and figure out the best way to proceed with this.

Mr. Horton said we don't refer to the master plan as often as we should, it situations of zone changes we have to according to state statute.

The issue of allowing spot zoning could set precedence was also brought up.

Mr. Horton will have to go back through and look at the 1982 master plan and see what it showed for this area, as this one puts us in a pickle on what can be done.

Commissioner Questions for Applicant

Vice Chairman Shaw asked the applicant or a representative for the project to come forward.

Mr. Seneshale was going to try and get it torn down this month or next month, then get the foundation in before winter and get a modular set.

Commissioner West clarified for the applicant what the problem was, that his application was in compliance with the master plan, but not in compliance with the zoning ordinance.

Commissioner Lozier asked when he bought the property; Mr. Seneshale said he closed about two months ago. Commissioner Lozier asked if it was a rental, when she drove by and it looks like it's been rented. Mr. Seneshale said the lady that owned it let her daughter stay there for free and it took them about a year to get clean title to it. It was a rental and they had all the gas and water shut off in November or December, the water bill was $5,000, which he thinks most of it was in the basement.

Commissioner Jackman asked if Mr. Horton wanted to revise his recommendation; Mr. Horton said yes we should table it and he would like to discuss this with the City Attorney and see how best to move forward, as we have conflict with the master plan zoning and we may need to look at changes in both.

Commission Vote

Commissioner Sheehan: Motion to table.

Commissioner Jackman: Second.

Vote: All in favor. Motion carried unanimously.
